DROP 1 // HYBRIDATION //

DROP 2 // METAMORPHOSE //

My first drop features a wardrobe inspired by abandoned urban exploration, where nature reclaims its territory. Each piece evokes faded colors and lush vegetation, combining bold volumes with lightness.

The collection includes hand-dyed pieces, patchwork items, and garments made from recycled materials, such as PET bottles. RAPPAZ is committed to giving fabrics a second life through eco-responsible practices, celebrating craftsmanship for a sustainable future. Each piece is unique.

My second drop is inspired by the artist Picassiette, whose work resonates deeply with me. I aim to merge the punk, nature, and haute couture universes through upcycled materials and natural dyes. This collection expands upon my first drop with new pieces, combining commercial items with an artisanal spirit.

Still rooted in the principles of my brand craftsmanship, punk spirit, and elegance it emphasizes upcycling, natural colors, and patchwork. I also want to highlight the punk, sexy, and assertive aspects of femininity, contrasting with the inspiration drawn from Picassiette, a raw artist who covered his house in mosaics.

Each chapter of the collection revolves around a particular flower, and this time, the daisy adds a touch of lightness. I also aim to introduce a more sculptural dimension, creating a dialogue between fashion and art.

COLLABORATION Jewelry / RAPPAZ x CLAIRE ISEPPI

Rappaz and Claire Iseppi are creating a unique jewelry capsule that merges the elegance of vintage pieces with the aesthetics of nature and elements in tin. In our workshop in France, each piece is meticulously crafted with precision, highlighting the organic character of every creation.

Claire Iseppi draws inspiration from the richness of her «fleurothèque,» a diverse collection of real flowers, to design works that reinvent flora in the style of 1970s science fiction. Her creations, vibrant and almost animated, combine species and textures to form jewelry that evokes a hybrid and imaginary nature. This collaboration results in pieces that are as much sculptures as they are jewelry, blending the plant world with colder elements like metal.
